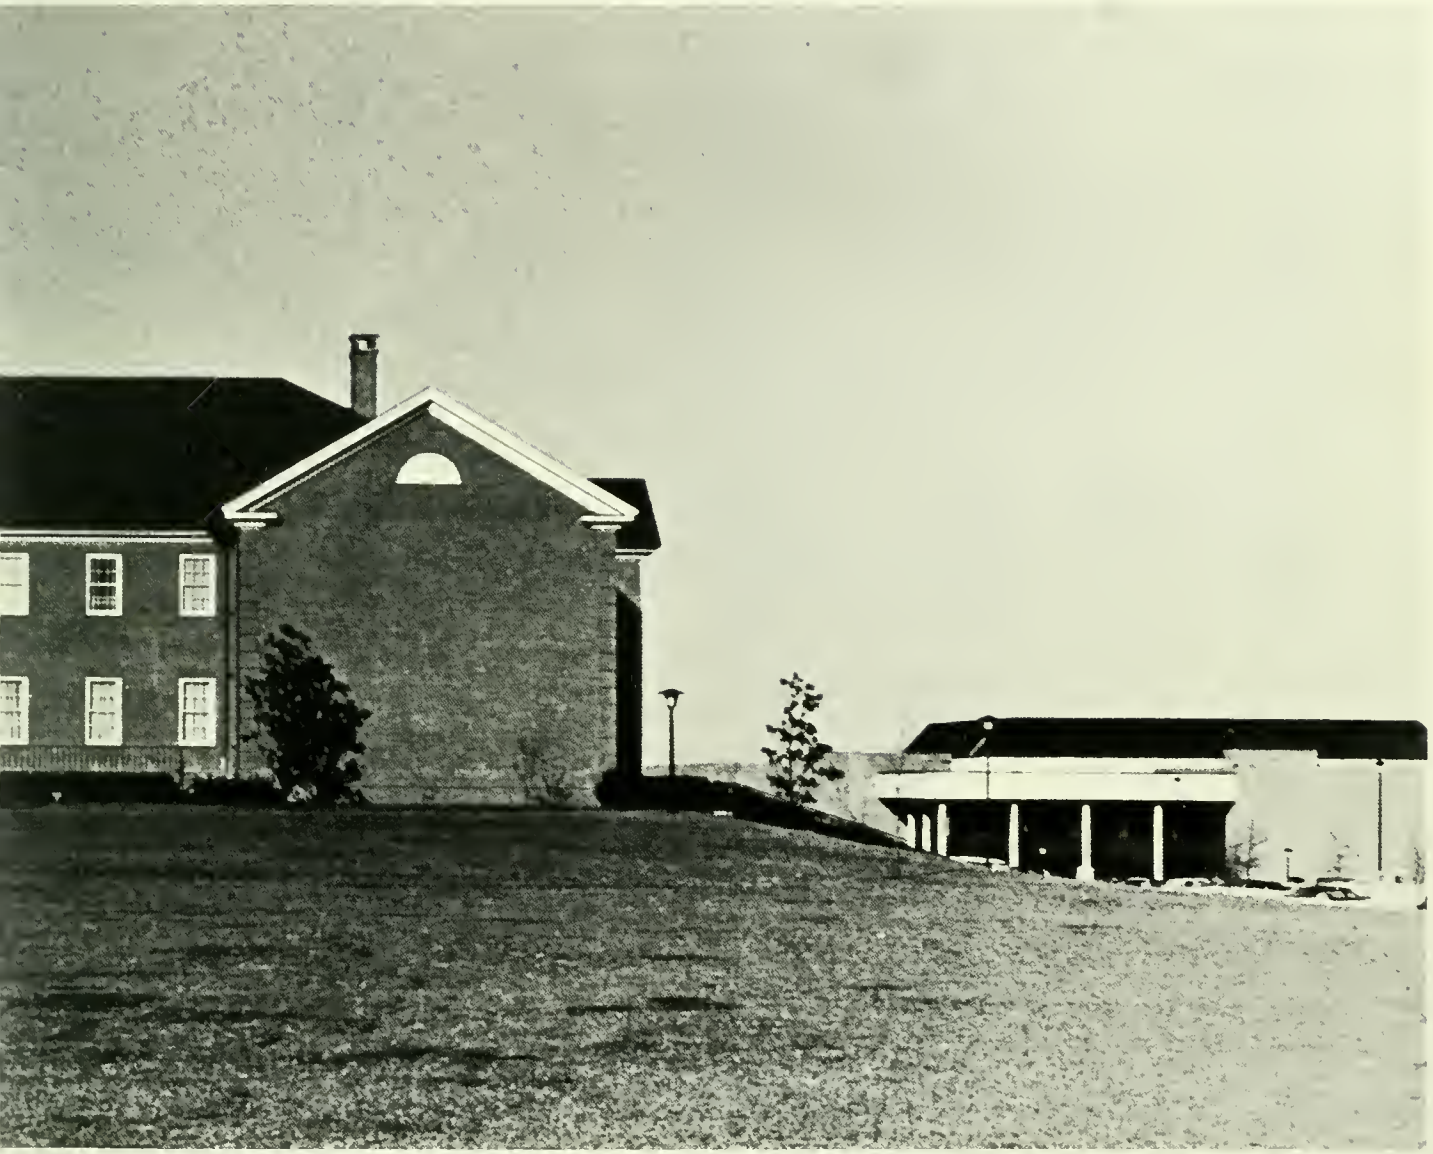
SPARTANBURG CAMPUS
UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

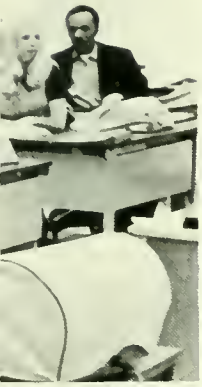
1973

the university of south carolina at spartanburg has experienced considerable growth during the year of 1972. many academic programs added to the curriculum, a substantial increase in the number of students enrolled, and the construction of a beautiful new building have all contributed to this expansion.

surely u.s.c.-s. can be considered an academic asset to the community.



among the programs which have been included this year is one in early childhood education which is available to graduate students.



associate degrees in business and office administration are also offered.

for the first time in our history, scholarships are available in the music program and in sports.

many students have taken advantage of these aids, consequently adding impetus to both the university choraliers and the spartan rifles basketball team.

if proof is needed that these opportunities are being taken advantage of one only has to walk down a hall during the ten or fifteen minutes between classes . . .

. . . or attempt to find a space to park the car.

the significant increase in the size of the student body had made the present facility extremely crowded. more than eight hundred undergraduates registered to attend classes in a building designed to accomodate four hundred and fifty.

these students represent a diversity of interest as well as age and life style.

enrollment of nursing students doubled this year . . .

. . . and the number of engineering and business majors also increased.

many students are employed either on campus or off.

some drive long distances daily in order to attend school.

Married students manage to squeese their families into their busy schedules.

all of these things are apparent at u.s.c.-s., but perhaps the most noticeable of all . . .

. . . is the million dollar building recently raised in our back-yard. this structure is not only designed to house classrooms for the nursing students but also to provide a gymnasium and a much needed student center.

our university continues to grow and improve every year. the many areas of study, the large number of students who are taking advantage of the programs, and the additional building all prove that the piedmont area is aware of the need for higher education. we believe that greater things are yet to come for u.s.c.-s. in the years ahead.
